Headline:
Wet and windy.

Today:
A dry morning with bright spells. Turning wet and windy in the early afternoon, as a band of rain, heavy at times, moves in from the west, accompanied by strong winds. Feeling cold under the rain. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tonight:
The rain clearing east during the early evening, leaving the region briefly clear and dry before widespread cloud and scattered showers move in, lasting all night. Winds remaining strong throughout. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Tuesday:
Scattered showers continuing, becoming more frequent as the day progresses. Generally easing towards the end of the day, with clear skies for many by nightfall. Winds remaining strong throughout. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Wednesday, Thursday and Friday mostly a mixture of sunny spells and showers, though thunderstorms are possible on Wednesday. Winds easing through the period but temperatures cold to very cold.
